

Book: cookie

Beauty is having a bad life, being bullied at home and her dad's temper getting out of control at home. Her dad would always call her names like ugly. At school her bully Skye would always call her 'ugly'. She loves it when her mum is home as they have fun and bake cookies together. It was Beauty's birthday coming close and her dad is big and rich so he wanted her to have an amazing party. She asked her dad for a rabbit but pets are not permitted in the house. Her dad's temper raged and tears ran down her face. The next day she went to school and her friend Rhona asked her what she wanted for her birthday and she said she doesn't know but she really wants a rabbit. The next day Rhona came to her party with a rabbit and her dad let it out the hutch without Beauty or her mum knowing. They went off to the party venue with all her classmates and her 'bully'. After the venue Beauty went to see her rabbit and it was gone. Beauty and her mum had enough and left the house and got a divorce.

This is an amazing book and I would recommend this book to everyone as it teaches people not about why you should not bully as it really hurt Beauty. Also they shouldn't bully as you don't know what's happening outside of school at home. While I was reading this it makes me feel very sorry for her as she can never have a safe place. The only time she has a safe place is with just her mum at home. This is an amazing book and I recommend you read it!